

History of John Goodinowe

John Goodinowe was born about 1535. He married Margaret and they had three children. John died 7 January 1592 or 1593 in Ebbsborne Wake, Wiltshire, England. His occupation was husbandman.

Will of John Goodinowe

In the name of God Amen the 18th day of November Year One Thousand []. I John Goodinowe of the parrish of Ebbesbourn Wake in the county of Wilts, husbandman sick in body but [] and perfect remembrance do ordain and make this my last will and testament in mannor and form following: First I bequeth my Soul to almighty God my body to be buried in the churchyard of Ebbesbourn.

And I give to the mother church in Elise. Next I give to my parrish church Next to the poor men's box Next I give and bequeth to William m son one cubbard one stone one quarter of mault one coverlet and one sheet Next I give and bequeth unto Thomas my son one quarter of malt one heiffer bullock [] of years old one coverlet and one sheet one brass pan and one [] also one coffer. Next I give and bequeth unto Julyan my Dau[] one quarter of malt one chest one coverlet one sheet one pewter platter and one brass pan one cauldron and also one skyllet and I will that these legacies afore given be delivered unto my said children at the age of Seventeen years and fortune any of my said children to decease before the age of 16 years that then his [] or her portion to remannt to the longest liver of them The rest of all my good moveable and removable my Debts payed and my funeral charge born I give and bequeth unto Margaret my wife whom I ordain and make my Sole executor of this my last will and testament also I ordain and appoint William and Richard my overseers and I give to each of them $ a piece

witnesses John Cabbett

Nicholas Hutton

over more

Probate John Goodinowe Deseased

Ebbesbornewake